"I can't believe how many trees we managed to plant between us - over 1,100 Richard reckoned! It was great to be able to see the results of our efforts at the end of the day, which we know in 5 years will be an area of maturing trees!" - Jenny Swindells, 3M

What We Do

We all want our rivers to be clean, healthy and protected. We want to give wildlife a suitable home and help people enjoy rivers to their full potential, whether it's through walking, fishing, bird watching or boating. To achieve this we;

- Restore vital habitat by planting trees
- Work hard to tackle sources of pollution
- Control invasive non-native species
- Make weirs passable to migratory fish
- Monitor wildlife populations
- Educate people on the importance of healthy rivers and how to protect them.

Our story

Ribble Rivers Trust was set up in 1997 by a group of local volunteers passionate about restoring and protecting our rivers for future generations.

Since then we've become one of the biggest rivers trusts in the UK, employing 18 members of staff to work across our 860 square mile catchment from the Yorkshire Dales down to the estuary at Lytham, taking in the Hodder, Calder and Darwen catchments too.

Why we need your help

As a registered charity, we rely on the generosity of individuals and organisations to support our core activities - grant givers fund most of our activities but not all. Donations enable us to make the applications to funders in the first place, so we can continue making a difference in our catchment.

In 2013, every £1 donated by our supporters resulted in approx £3,000 of project delivery.

We need donations to support us so we can put all of our grant money directly into the conservation of our rivers. We work with local communities and businesses on local issues and our work is carried out and supplied by local companies.

We're looking for successful businesses who are conscious about the environment to help safeguard our work into the future.

Rivers are important habitats - we need to protect them!
